CITIES WILL BEAR EXPENSE

Mayor W. W. Scott and City Attorney Hall Represent Richmond
At Meeting

Perfecting their organization for a fight to the finish against the application of the Key System Transit company to raise its street car and ferry rates, city attorneys and mayors of all the Eastbay cities held a joint meeting yesterday afternoon
in the Oakland City Hall.

A campaign to oppose the Key system's application was mapped out and definite steps to cooperate with the state railroad commission in making an inventory and appraisal
of the company's property were taken. A committee consisting of City
Attorney Leon Grey of Oakland, City Manager J. D. Eby of Berkeley and City Attorney D. J. Hall of Richmond was appointed to arrange for securing an expert valuation engineer.

The expense of gathering data is expected to cost the Eastbay cities in the neighborhood of $20,000, the cost of the valuation of each million dollars of Key System holdings will amount to approximately $1,000. The cities will bear the cost equitably on the basis of valuation and population of each city.

Another meeting for the purpose of laying further plans for the fight against an increase in street car and ferry rates will be held by the mayors and city attorneys within the next two weeks at the Oakland City Hall.

Mayor W. W. Scott and City Attorney D. J. Hall attended the meeting yesterday as Richmond's representatives in the joint fight.

Deas read a communication before the commission which is hearing the ing of the commission's decision to not met."

RAILROADS ASK REHEARING ON CUT IN RATES

Putting into Force Decrease In Ferry Prices Has Been Postponed

MATTER UNDER ADVISEMENT

Claim Is Made There Were Numerous Errors in Estimate
Of Properties

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. —Arguing that the State Railroad Commission made numerous errors in its estimate of the properties devoted to automobile ferry uses by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company between
San Francisco and Oakland, Attorney
C. W. Durbow of the Southern Pacific legal staff pleaded today for the commission to grant a rehearing of its order cutting rates from $1.05
to 60 cents for automobiles and 8 cents to 5 cents for passengers.

The petition was argued before Commissioners Clyde L. Seavey, Geo.
D. Squires and Ezra Decoto.
At the conclusion of the argument the commissioners took their decision as to a rehearing under advise.

Meanwhile the rate cuts, which were ordered to go into effect on July 15, will be held up.

It was noted by Durbow that all floating working equipment had been omitted from the rate base excepting the tug Ajax. This, he claimed, was an error. As to the equipment,
the commission figured it at $10,000,
while the company carried it in their records at $227,672.

where they remained several days before returning home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Scholes report having had an enjoyable trip through the beauties of the northwest.

BANNER YEAR IS REPORT MADE BY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Nearly 300,000 Books Were Circulated During The Past
Twelve Months

ADMINISTRATION ECONOMICAL

Special Room For The Boys
And The Girls, A Popular
Department

With a circulation of 275,116 the work of the Public Library shows
the last year to be the most prosperous in its history.

"Some people wonder if a public library pays," said City Librarian Norah McNeill. "If you will grant that the books circulated are the library's profit and might be valued at one dollar per book then in terms of business the proposition would be something like this. The plant of the Richmond library is valued at $101,000. This plant was operated last year at an expense of $26,015.71 with a return of $275,116 (in terms of books), being a clear profit of $251,100.25." It is of course impossible to reckon the use of books in dollars and cents," said Miss Mc-Neill. "Some of the books read by Richmond people are read for recreation alone, but this is a form of amusement as legitimate as that of the moving pictures or the public playgrounds for the children. Other books are used by business men, automobile mechanics, employees in local industries and people in all departments of the community."

Stonewall, the only occupant of
the burned house, had lighted the
gas plate in the kitchen and was in one of the front rooms when he noticed smoke issuing from the kitchen. It is believed that an oil cloth hanging behind the gas plate had caught fire. Stonewall stated that he had heard no explosion.

A box alarm turned in was responded by Engine 3 and Ladder 1, but the flames had practically razed the house before the apparatus arrived. The Frank Rossi home, adjacent to the Stonewall residence,
was slightly damaged when its roof
caught fire.

Efforts to remove the furniture
from the Stonewall house proved fruitless.

The burned house was the property of Mrs. J. Lavigne of Berkeley and was a frame construction. It could not be ascertained whether or not the house had been insured by the owner, Mrs. Lavigne.

Last night's fire was the third conflagration to occur in the Stego
district during the past week.

Autos Collide At Barrett and 5t Last Night

Two machines were slightly damaged in a collision which occurred last evening at the intersection of Fifth street and Barrett avenue. The cars, which were driven by E. H.
Raby, 223 First street, and M. A.
Hays, local real estate man residing at 561 Hays street, crashed when neither driver noticed the approach of the other machine. It was reported by police.

The front axle and radiator of Raby's machine were damaged, while the damage to Hays' car was reported to be very slight.

Oil Cloth on Kitchen Wall Is Ig-

Fire, believed to have started when oil cloth on the kitchen wall was ignited by a gas plate, completely destroyed the home of Fred Stonewall, located on Potrero avenue, near San Pablo avenue, shortly before 11 o'clock last night. The damage was estimated at around $3500,
by Acting Fire Chief J. J. Barry.

Only prompt action by the fire departments of Richmond and El Cerrito prevented a large portion of the residential and business section at Stego Junction from being swept out. Several nearby houses were damaged by flames from the burning house, but the small blaze that broke out on their roofs were extinguished in a short time.

Stonewall, the only occupant of
the burned house, had lighted the
gas plate in the kitchen and was in her, returned last night from a two weeks' fishing trip to Orick, Calif., and the Klamath River, making a trip of 900 miles. He reports a wonderful time.

One days fishing at Orick in the surf netted 700 lbs. between three

A DISPARITY IN THE LAW

While there are provisions for inflicting heavier penalties on peddlers of dope than on those who peddle whiskey, there is a lack of balance between the law and its enforcement with respect to these two evils. Beside feeding addicts and creating them, the traffic in liquor is a mild offense, both in truth and in the public conscience. In both instances, the effect is to gratify a debased appetite, but the loathsomeness of the drug habit is much more abhorrent than the pathos of the liquor victim.

The ninth circuit court of appeals has recently decided that a physician needs little defense except his professional word when accused of unlawfully distributing habit-forming drugs. Possibly there were elements in this case which justified the reversal of the trial court, but as a general principal of law, it seems to us the physician who caters to the terrible craving of humanity should be subject to stern penalties. He, better than even the casual hop-head who peddles bindles, should know the awful cancerous sore of drug addiction.

A case in a New York court has attracted our attention as an instance of a trial judge who knew his business and was bold enough to fly in the face of outworn procedure. We recommend some sort of attitude on the part of our own judges, even though they are more hedged about with rules and regulations. We quote:

A jury which acquitted an alleged dope peddler was criticised by Judge Winslow, in United States district court, and the names of the twelve jurors were stricken from the jury list for a week.

The defendant was arrested by narcotic agents after he was alleged to have sold two ounces of heroin to Clarence Madison, working with the government agents. Madison testified he had known the defendant for three years and had purchased dope from him before. The agents were also witnesses.

The trial lasted only half an hour and the jury took two hours and a half to consider it. When the verdict of not guilty was handed to Judge Winslow he said:

"How a jury of twelve citizens could reach such a verdict in this type of case in which practically no defense was offered and three of the government witnesses testified against the defendant is beyond my ken.

"If I consider your verdict an intelligent one I should refer this case to the United States attorney that the government witnesses might be indicted for perjury.

"And among the witnesses is a man who was twice wounded in France and decorated for his service in the war. Having been head of the investigation department of the United States government he is now devoting himself to the laudable work of stamping out in this community the nefarious sale of opiates.

"We have had and are still having an outburst of crime which is a shock to the community and it is safe to say that fifty per cent of these crimes are directly due to the use of opiates, which give the perpetrators the false courage to commit the most serious crimes."

Judge Winslow pointed to the defendant and said: "This man is one of the most notorious offenders in this illegal traffic, and you men, on your oaths as jurors, have turned him loose to continue as a menace to this community. It makes one pause when he reflects that our property and lives are in the keeping of men who can find such a verdict as you have found."

In a recent burglary trial the jury was composed of twelve women. It was the first time in this section that a criminal case was entirely in the keeping of the fair sex. But the defense in this hearing was an alibi and what girls don't know about men's alibis is hardly worth listening to.—Los Angeles Times.

Margot Asquith in her latest book, says Americans are lacking in a sense of humor. Perhaps when Lady Asquith was here the Americans were only too polite to laugh.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Whenever a European nation wants to get out of doing anything they say it would interfere with the Dawes plan.

Science is doing wonders for the world, aside from discovering some things that may not be true.—Toledo Blade.

Judging from the way France and Italy look at it, if Germany and Austria are ever united it will have to be the result of an elopement.

Even the Sea Yields Its Treasures For the Adornment of Women's Hats.

It is well to remember that our primitive forefathers and fore-mothers wore clothes for adornment long before they wore them for warmth or modesty. Anthropologists seem to be quite settled in this regard. So historically speaking, the trimming of our hats is more important than the hat itself, and we have excellent precedent when we think first of the becomingness and decorativeness of a hat and second of its serviceability.

Milliners—at least some of them—lament the fact that so few trimmings are used on hats at the present time. They sigh sadly when they are forced to agree that a very large majority of the hats worn by the smartest women in Paris are trimmed with nothing more than a wisp of ribbon, a jeweled pin or a soupcon of the felt of which the hat is made. It would be more profitable if hats carried more trimming. However, there are exceptions to this rule.

Not infrequently the trimming is pointed on the hat, and sometimes this bit of coloring is signed like any other work of art. Sometimes the flowers and other decorations are embroidered on the hat. Instead of flowers, the decoration may take the form of some animal or other, as a chicken, a duck or a cat, or even a snail, which seems to have been favored quite a little by Paris milliners this spring.

The little jeweled or enamel ornaments that sometimes form the only trimming on felt or straw hats are often quite amusing, frequently something that carries a message of good luck with it being chosen, as a swastika or four-leaf clover. From Paris comes a small-brimmed shape of pedal straw with a wide, grain ribbon round the crown on which appear a series of bunnies sitting erect, made of pasted silver and pink feathers.

Sometimes one has to take a close look to see just what the trimming really is. You surely wouldn't know at first sight that the ornaments on the little felt-hat in the sketch were ink sea shells, cleverly dyed.

WISE AND OTHERWISE By MARY MARSHALL

A NEW WAY WITH A SCARF

MANY women have never been able to bring themselves to tolerate the effect of the coat suit directly next the skin. They have longed for a return to smartness of the fashion for bringing the blouse collar out over the coat collar, or for wearing a linen or lace collar over the coat collar.

The old fashion had much to commend it to our liking. The line of washable white was usually more becoming, next the skin, than is the line of the heavier fabric and darker color of the suit. Moreover, the daintiness of the trick appealed to us. We liked having something that could be changed daily, if we wished, next our skin.

Some of the smart young women who like suits for country and sport wear, have done something quite clever this summer. They have arranged a narrow, washable white silk scarf around the neck under the suit coat, so that just a strip of it shows from under the coat collar. They arrange it quite precisely, making it follow the line of the coat all around. Sometimes they wrap it once around the throat first, crossing it at the back, and then bring it it around and down the front. The neat line of white is fresh and crisp in appearance, and decidedly pleasing in feeling.

ITALIAN PAPER PADS

Hand-blocked Italian paper is used for covering all sorts of pads, and it is very effective. The colors are tans and browns, reds, golds and yellows, usually. Bridge score pads, shopping lists, scratch pads, account books and letter-paper pads are all covered with this colorful paper, hand blocked in small designs. These pads make very attractive bridge prizes.

WHERE IT STARTED

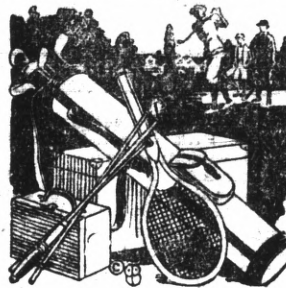

THE DRUGGIST'S PESTLE

The pestle, used for mixing drugs was formerly the leg-bone of an animal. In some old books of the middle ages the term "pestle of pork" is used, meaning "leg of pork." The leg-bone was of convenient size for use as a pestle, so the name came to be applied to any instrument used for powdering material.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Too many people suffer lame, aching backs, distressing kidney disorders and rheumatic aches and pains. Often this is due to faulty kidney action and there's danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Don't let weak kidneys wear you out. Use Doan's Pills before it is too late! Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Here is one of many Richmond cases:

Mrs. E. Klein 1812 Nevins Ave., says, "I felt weak and the least work wore me out completely. My kidneys didn't act normally and I had frequent attacks of backache. I used Doan's Pills and they cured me completely."

OVER SIX YEARS LATER, Mrs. Klein said: "Doan's Pills have always helped me when by kidneys have troubled me."

Mrs. Klein is only one of many Richmond people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS the same that Mrs. Klein had—the remedy backed by home testimony, 60 cents at all dealers. Last Showing of Zane Greys Big Story of The West

BILLIE DOVE IN THE
"THE LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS"

"The Light of Western Stars," which made its initial appearance at the California theatre last night, combines the story-telling genius of Zane Grey, the directorial expertise of William K. Howard and the acting ability of Jack Holt, Noah Beery and Billie Dove.

Mr. Grey who knows the West as few other men know it and can write about it sympathetically and understandingly, has turned his attention in this adventurous romance-drama to the vast Southwest, the great range and desert country of Arizona which for long remained the stamping ground of the cattle-rustlers and bad men of the old West.

The essential flavor and spirit of the story has been captured by the scenarists, George C. Hull and Lucien Hubbard so that the picture is a convincing portrayal of the picturesque life, habits and customs of those early empire-building days.

Jack Holt gives an excellent account of himself as the up-standing, square-shooting cowboy who loves to fight and fight to love. Noah Beery makes the outlaw chief he impersonates just as villainous and despicable as the character calls for. And Billie Dove invests her role with a naturalness and sincerity that makes her performance a memorable one.

Pictorially, the production leaves nothing to be desired, inasmuch as the actual locations mentioned by the author were used as scenic backgrounds. The staging is all that it should be and reflects great credit upon William K. Howard, who lives up to the reputation he established with "The Thundering Herd."

Other features on the same program include "Official Officers" an "Our Gang" comedy, International News, Larry Canelo at the organ.

"Wine of Youth" Draws Big Crowd At The Richmond

"The best of the modern jazz pictures yet. That was the verdict of the audience of the Richmond theatre last night at the first showing of 'Wine of Youth,' King Vidor's production for Metro-Goldwyn of Rachel Crothers's very popular story, which was known in its stage version as 'Mary the Third.'

Directed with a whimsical touch of humor and played by an ideal cast, 'Wine of Youth' provides an evening of fast and furious entertainment that certainly ought to satisfy the most capricious spectator. The cast includes Eleanor Boardman, Pauline Garon, Ben Lyon, William Haines, William Collier, Jr., and many others. Carey Wilson made the adaptation.

Other features on the same program include the second thrilling chapter of 'Days of '49,' featuring Neva Gerber and Edmund Cobb; 'Felix Tries For Treasure,' a Felix the cat, comedy.

Ancient Idols May Link Mexico With Old Egypt

By DON J. KIRKLEY

Universal Service Staff Correspondent

LAKE PATZCUARO, Michoacan, Mexico, May 15.—Strange idols, thousands of years old, which may lead to the discovery of the ruins of a Mexican Atlantis and link civilization on the Mexican continent to that of Egypt have been found in excavations near here.

On the side of a hill in the vicinity of Arangicuaro, native tribesmen have discovered ruins of a buried city, dating back to ancient times. One man has collected more than 20 huge idols from this "dead city."

The discovery of an idol in the shape of a man with a jackal's head has awakened interest in the minds of scientists. From its similarity to the idol of the Egyptian Anubis, son of Osiris and Nefti, the stone figure has been named the Anubis of Patzcuaro.

A figure of a naked woman, standing on the head of an animal resembling a frog, and that of a potter sitting at his task have created interest among archaeologists.

Other objects found near the two images lead scientists to believe the figures belonged to a physician of this ancient city.

Natives, playing about the ruins, treat the historical fragments with disdain—to them they are uninteresting, but scientific men think some of the instruments discovered show that Aztec tribes knew many modern medical secrets.

A filter, with dropping attachment, around which the figure of a serpent is coiled, is believed to have contained snake-medicine, the venom of vipers mixed with herbs and an antidote and administered to snake bitten patients drop by drop.

Another vessel seems to have been used for certain washes, and two small amphorae, are believed to have contained unguents.

"Venus of the Arangicuaro," or the "Goddess of the Lake" is the title bestowed upon the statue of the woman on the frog.

Made of baked clay, which in the passages of years has acquired a rock-like consistency, the figures are in a wonderful state of preservation. Each tiny line, carved into the body,

Negro in Dark Over Dempsey's Desire to Fight

PARIS, July 17.—When shown New York dispatches today, stating that Jack Dempsey had signed for a match with him, Harry Wills, American negro heavyweight, who is in Europe for a brief vacation said:

"I hope the story is true, but I have heard nothing myself directly."

"Everything is in the hands of Paddy Mullins, who is fully empowered to sign for me, but I have had no word from him yet."

Wills was getting ready this morning to leave for Carlsbad, but said he was perfectly willing to abandon his trip and return to the United States if necessary. He had not been counting on a match with Dempsey, because he understood the champion had signed to meet Gene Tunney.

Further excavations to find the secret of this lost Atlantis are being made.

Thousands Attend Big Convention Of Endeavorers

Several thousand delegates attended the Thirtieth International Christian Endeavor convention held at Portland, Ore., from July 4 to July 10, according to Miss Helen Reed, 106 Chanslor avenue, who returned from that city Thursday evening. TUBERCULOSIS OVERCOME

Oakland, Calif.
April 28, 1925.
For about three years I suffered from a bad cough and sore chest. I tried many doctors, all of whom pronounced my case Tuberculosis. My spittle was examined and showed tubercular germs. As I found no improvement from the treatment that I took, I decided to give the FONG WAN HERB a test, as a last resort. After having drunk the herbs for four months, I was a well woman and had gained in weight. A year has elapsed since I began to take the FONG WAN HERB on April 16, 1924, and today I am still well and have no sign of my former complaints. (Signed) MRS. A. Captain Hadlock Will Speak Here On World Peace

Captain Harvey Hadlock, who was formerly a pastor in Boston, Mass. and is now touring the world with the peace message of the Passion Play, will speak at the First Christian church Sunday morning on "The Greatest Victory in the World." He will show how the battle at the Monks' key trial in Dayton, Ohio, has a bearing on this victory. He will also speak upon the merits of the question involved, at Dayton and answer the following questions:

"Is evolution a vital issue in America today?" What will be the probable outcome of the Dayton trial? How does the issue involved compare with the peace issue now before the world?"

At his presentation of the Passion Play and world peace message at this church in the evening, Captain Hadlock will show colored pictures of Anton Lang, Christus of the religion drama and of the other famous actors. Each act and scene of the play will be realistically reproduced in pictures and dramatic interpretation. In fact the entire play will be reproduced as Captain Hadlock witnessed it in Oberammergau as the guest of Anton Lang.

$15,000 IS ASKED CITY FOR 2 LOTS BY LAND CONCERN

Fixing a price of $15,000 for the two lots to be acquired by the city for the rights of way for the rail line to the new wharf on the inner harbor at the foot of Tenth street, the Ellis Landing and Dock company has addressed a communication to this effect to the city council.

City authorities hold that this price is too high, however, and effort will be made to reach a more satisfactory agreement with the dock company before the next council meeting.

Notice that the city will insure proceedings for the opening of the street to the new wharf in the event the Ellis Landing and Dock company stands out on its price, has been served by city Attorney D. J. Hall.

The dock company is asking the price of $15,000 for two whole lots, portions of two other lots and approximately one-third of an acre in the tideland that the city needs for

Rotarians Hear An Address From Dr. Geo. C. Pardee

Declaring that the properties of the East Bay Water company should be purchased by the people of the East Bay Municipal Utility district in the valuation to be set by the State Railroad Commission, Dr. Geo. C. Pardee, director of the district, addressed the members of the Richmond Rotary Club yesterday.

Introduced by Harry Marcus and received by Past President H. A. Johnston, W. R. Wallace, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company was received as a new member of the club. A number of visiting Rotarians from Reno and Petaluma were in attendance. Harry Marcus acted as secretary in the absence of Walter T. Holmes.

A letter from the Santa Barbara Rotarians, were read thanking the Richmond club for its contribution to the "Jimmy Angel" fund in memory of one of the club's directors, who had been killed in the recent earthquake.

Banner Year Is Report Made For Public Library

Less of work and the use of these books means an actual return in dollars and cents to man who uses them.

The books borrowed from the Richmond library this past year would have cost more than half a million dollars if they had been purchased by the individual users. And again if these books had been borrowed from a circulating library the cost would have been very much greater than the amount it took to run the library last year.

On a lower tax rate than other East Bay cities are receiving for their libraries the Richmond library is getting its books to the people at the lowest cost per book. The cost to one library in handling its books is 12.1 cents per book, that of another is 12.9 cents while the cost at the Richmond library is 9.6 cents.

During the past year the books handled by each employee at the Richmond library averaged more than 27,000 as against 15,313 each in one East Bay library and 23,002 in another. This is due to the fact that the Richmond library is doing a yearly increasing business with no increase in the number of assistants. With the exception of one part-time assistant the number on the staff has not been increased for the last eight years.

"The members of the library staff do not have time to do fancy work or read books during library hours," said Miss McNeill.

CIRCULATION.

An increased use of books and other material is shown in all branches of the service. The total circulation of 275,116 is an increase of 47,445 over the preceding year. Under our "reserve" or "special request" system 1573 books were made available to the borrowers requesting them both at the Main Library or the branches. Among this number 42 volumes, chiefly technical were borrowed for the State Library.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' DEPARTMENT.

The special room for the boys and girls of Richmond is one of the most popular departments of the library. Here the children come to read and look at picture books and to look up material for their school work. They took home during the year 39,888 books for home reading and borrowed 46,368 mounted pictures

MIRIMAR CHAPTER MEETS FOR BUSINESS AND SOCIAL

A regular business meeting, followed by a social hour, was the order of the evening at the meeting of Mirimar Chapter, No. 205, Order of the Eastern Star, held in Masonic hall last night.

Worthy Matron Velma Quinn and Worthy Patron William Self presided over the session, which was closed as quickly as possible for the entertainment to begin. The members all enjoyed the evening in a general social way, and at a late hour refreshments were served. No committee was appointed to take care of the refreshments, but all the members lent their aid.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS.

All members of the Mooseheart Sewing Club are requested to turn in all finished or unfinished work belonging to the Club by Wednesday, July 22nd.

STREET RAILROAD FARES

STREET Railroad fares should be fixed so as to give the public the best service at the lowest possible cost consistent with proper regard for the rights of the owners of the railroad.

How are fares determined in California?

The California Railroad Commission has exclusive power to determine the fares to be charged by a Street Railroad.

How does the Commission determine these rates?

The Commission, after an investigation into the value of the property used and dedicated to the public service and, arriving at the reasonable cost of furnishing that service, determines the fares to be charged.

Are these investigations open to the public?

They are. They are held either in one of the offices of the Railroad Commission or in some public place and the hearings may be attended by anyone and all the papers and facts known to the Commission may be inspected by any citizen at any reasonable time.

Is this a good method for determining rates?

The answer must be "YES".
